

Summary of the analysis and conclusions regarding the quality of execution during the report period

Reported date: 13/02/2020

The execution of client's order was based on the principles of the Client's Order Execution Policy of Prochoice Chrimatistiriaki Ltd as it was applicable during the report period. In accordance with the above policy, Prochoice Chrimatistiriaki Ltd takes into account the following factors to the extent that they might affect the execution of its client's orders:

- Price of the financial instrument,
- Cost related to the execution of the order (commissions, clearing and settlement costs etc.),
- Possible speed of execution,
- Likelihood of execution and settlement of the transaction,
- Volume of the order
- Nature of the order,
- Any other factor or consideration relevant to the execution of the order.

As a rule (in particular with respect to the securities and other financial instruments negotiated on regulated markets for which market liquidity and public prices exist), the highest relative importance for the achievement of the best possible result is afforded to the price and to the cost of execution, however, in some cases due to the characteristics of each client or the order or the nature of the financial instrument or the characteristics of the execution venue, it is possible that higher importance is afforded to other factors. In general, execution of a purchase order at a price higher of the lowest available or of a sale order at a price lower of the highest available, at the time of execution of the order, does not necessarily constitute a violation of the Order Execution Policy.
